We understand that by signing this contract, the Dwight-Englewood School Private Music Lessons Program is agreeing to provide the lessons and classes indicated above for their respective fees. We, the student and parent, are agreeing to the terms and policies as stated in the current Dwight-Englewood School Music Lessons Program Booklet, which include a financial and personal commitment on our part for the full school year. Once we schedule a weekly lesson time, that time will be reserved in the teacher's schedule for the full year. The teacher will have to turn away other students that may require that time. With the exception of mutually agreeable changes in scheduling between the teacher and student, students are expected to schedule all other activities (sports, tutoring, Senior Focus, etc.) so that they will not interfere with the scheduled music lesson time. Failure to be able to reschedule lesson times as necessary to accommodate a student's taking on conflicting activities will not constitute justification of a refund for missed lessons or for the expectation that those lessons will be made up.
